

Building MY Support Community

As you build your support system, keep these types of people in mind.

Someone I can trust with anything.

Someone I can trust at work.

Someone I can talk to about home life.

Someone I can call anytime.

Someone I can let see me cry.

My primary care doctor

Another medical professional

An online community where I can get support.

Another organization where I can get support.
